ALTEN is a multinational European group that has positioned itself among the first consulting firms, providing overall expertise, important Partners, and Quality to its ideas, responses and teams. It is a company specialized in high-added-value services inside the consultancy and the Technology Engineering fields. Big companies in the service, telecommunication, automotive, finance, defense, aeronautical, Public Administration, and industry sectors form an integral part of its list of clients. To all of them, ALTEN provides competitive and advanced solutions in the Information Technology field, the R&D and the system’s integration.

ALTEN Italia has managed to position itself as one of the benchmark companies inside the Italian business structure through our locations in Milano, Brescia, Bologna, Cesano Boscone, Firenze, Genova, Maranello, Napoli, Padova, Roma and Torino. All of these have been the result of a high level of specialization, a selective policy when choosing projects and clients, and an important management of the project.

ALTEN’s turnover is distributed into two technological branches. On the one hand is the Engineering activities, and on the other the Information Technology, Communications, and Consultancy activities.
